

28/10/2024 The First PoA Build-A-Mon To Hit Love

- New:  Miasmiss

With the addition of Miasmiss, the Monarch Pokemon, PoA Monotype sees a Sludge Wave of power for Poison and Fighting teams.

Poison now has a decent PoAmon that helps it perform better against Ice, Normal, and especially Dark. She also helps Rotom-Hisui-Armoured fight against pesky Steel type pokemon, but will likely have less impact than Rotom-Hisui-Armoured due to her STABs being less reliable. Otherwise, she doesn't contribute much against Ground and has to be very careful against Psychic.

Fighting gains more from her addition than Poison, as she is the first Fighting type pokemon that can take down Fairy. She also acts as the first reliable Fighting special attacker due to her signature move, which is good because missing Focus Blasts with Grand Mirage was tiring. Though she still doesn't do much against Psychic and Flying, she has enough going for her to be a mainstay in Fighting teams.

Poison: UR → A

Fighting: UR → S
