Welcome to the PoA Monotype Viability Rankings!

PoAmon are ranked separately for each type and based on the power within that type, so an A rank for Water is not necessarily as powerful as an A rank for Fairy. Higher rankings typically mean that those PoAmons have seen more success and use than others, but that does not mean lower ranked PoAmon aren't useful or have a valuable niche. Each rank has their PoAmons listed alphabetically and not ordered within tiers.

Most every PoAmon is on this document that is allowed in the format, and you can click on their names to see a Pokepaste with their sets and an analysis on how they work in Monotype (though some links dont exist and some may need update). Most mons are not tested in the format enough to have set in stone rankings, so expect this list to constantly change. If you have any concerns, questions or possible corrections on this document, do complain to one of the following individuals:

Concerns, questions, and corrections will only be considered and responded to if it is done without hostility towards anyone. Please only send in possible corrections if you have experience using the PoAmon in question and have calculations that may warrant a change in ranking.
